FIRST FLOOR PLAN

Kingsbury 'Garden Square' Proposal

Buckinghamshire Council are currently consulting on the Planning Design Proposal to improve the visual arrangement of Kingsbury and its garden square.

The space would be accessible by vehicles, managed via an ANPR (automatic number plate recognition) gateway beside Cambridge Street, one-way clockwise through the space, maintaining local access to George Street and Pebble Lane, exiting through a second ANPR gateway at the Buckingham Street roundabout. This would be a pedestrianised space allowing pedestrian priority at all times over vehicles. Cycle parking is provided in two locations.

The garden square is clearly visible with its central lawn and surrounding gardens. These are proposed to be rain gardens gathering surface water run off for irrigation as part of the site SUDS (sustainable urban drainage system) strategy. There are also two street swales to the south of Kingsbury. The garden square is surrounded by a range of integrated seating and other features, which will be part of further detailed design development, for example, interpretation features highlighting Aylesbury's heritage. Various new trees are proposed throughout the space.

Kingsbury - A Garden Square

Proposed Plan - 1:200 @ A1

Outdoor seating is shown indicatively to building frontages to highlight the potential for a stronger relationship between businesses and the public realm, i.e. space for outdoor dining or other trading. There would be new lighting throughout Kingsbury for improved ambience but also safety and security.

An artist's impression of Kingsbury, viewed from the south. It shows a more unified ground plane for pedestrian priority, the central garden area with generous planting, new street trees, and increased outdoor trading opportunities to building frontages all around the space. The new garden would have the effect of pulling the surrounding buildings together into a new relationship with their public realm. This would be a softer, more comfortable, and welcoming environment for everyone. The proposals also aim to make the route through to the museum and St. Mary's more clear.
